Learn how to play the piano in a step by step manner using this Metronome, a tool that will teach you, through a walk-through mode, the techniques used for playing with 2 or more metronomes. If you want to add some new music to your game's tracks, it can be really a pain to find that great song that fits your game's style perfectly. Easy Tune, a tool for harmonizing your music, can be a god-send in this regard. Saving time and effort is what this app does best, as it lets you enter a text file containing the song you want to use, and select a preferred chord pattern, as well as the beat's tempo. Play around with this, and you will soon be able to harmonize a song for yourself, ensuring the most perfect fit. Features In this tool you can enjoy a large variety of automatically harmonized songs, which can be found on the Internet. You can easily switch between them through a menu, and play as many of them as you need, having the possibility of choosing from a range of options for the chords, beats, and genres. Keyboards, defined in the dictionary as horizontal rows of keys, are the most common keyboards found in all devices, including mobile devices. Mobile keyboards are the keys that operate on the device's touchscreen. Mostly, smartphones are associated with word processing apps, although some of them allow games or other software to be run while they are open. Many of the keyboard layouts, while on the standard ones, have different characters added to them. For example, the Czech keyboard layout has an additional semi-colon, for the separator of the plurals. There are also special keyboards, such as the meta keys, that allow you to change the layout entirely. This allows the user to have other layouts available, in case one doesn't work as well as it should, and to quickly switch between different layouts. Gesture keyboards were invented to enable access to letters and other symbols not available through the standard keyboard. This is, indeed, an improvement, but most standard keyboards can be easily configured to work with this type of input. Speech recognition has been taken to the next level with devices like the famous Jawbone's Up. This device works with the microphone on the smartphone to understand the user's voice. The transcription is sent to the Jawbone

FAQ How long does it take to complete a level? Up to 10 minutes. There is a progress bar with which you can monitor the progression of each exercise. Once you complete a level, you will be presented with a Game Over screen and will have to start a new level. What options can I choose? There are three options available for each rhythm: Guitar, Keyboard and Strumming. What is "Strumming"? First, the application will ask you to choose the note that is played for each beat. Then it will show you the correct answer and you can choose to "strum" or play that note. Is this a strategy game, like "Thumb Wars" or "Rock the Clock"? It is not, but it gives the same type of feedback (rhyme and meter) that strategy games do. We have included this feature to help train kids to learn how to play poly-rhythm. Each game will be differentiated by the note chosen for each beat. Also, with each level your score will increase. Is this an educational game? It is not a game, per se, as it does not have a single goal. However, it is meant to teach
